

MEET JOSEPH HILLSON GROUNDWORKER APPRENTICE

Joseph joined Aden as a Groundworker apprentice in September 2024. In the short time he's been with us, he has quickly gained confidence and integrated seamlessly into the team. We sat down with Joseph to learn more about his experience so far and hear his thoughts on his apprenticeship journey here at Aden.

What skills have you learned so far?

I have learned how to ensure the proper fall for pipe work and have enjoyed learning about steel fixing.

What kind of support do you get from Aden Contracting?

If I encounter challenges, they help me with finding alternative solutions.

What's your favourite part about learning on the job versus traditional classroom learning?

I learn best through hands-on experience so an apprenticeship is great for me.

It requires patience, but the rewards are worth it in the end.

What do you enjoy most about working for Aden Contracting?

You have the opportunity to meet and interact with a diverse range of people.

What makes Aden's apprenticeship program stand out from others?

The way they support and mentor their apprentices.

How has the apprenticeship helped build your confidence?

This apprenticeship has helped me improve my ability to communicate with a variety of people.

What's been the most surprising thing you've learned during this experience?

I have gained a wide range of skills during my time with Aden already, including steel fixing, concrete work, shuttering, and much more.

We wish Joseph the best of luck as he continues his apprenticeship. We're excited to see him grow and achieve even greater success throughout his journey with us.
